A forum for reflection, initiatives and innovation

Cedhys enables its members to devise the best information technologies development strategies for their companies.

For over 30 years, Cedhys has brought together Chief Information Officers, in the domain of human and animal health, and more generally the life sciences. It is the only Francophone association of this standing.

Belonging to Cedhys helps in facing up to the profound changes associated with the intensification of regulations, economic change and the increasing specialisation of the IT Manager in this sector.

Expertise and conviviality

Above all an organisation on a human scale, Cedhys places the emphasis on conviviality and exchanges on best practice, reflection and services.

Because all the members of Cedhys are dealing with similar situations, the concept of a network assumes its full force within the association.

Through the various activities of the association, members build relationships of solidarity and friendship. Together, they contribute to developing their professional expertise to the benefit of their organisations.

Testimony from our members

“At the first Cedhys seminar in which I took part, some months ago, I was impressed by the warm ambiance that prevails among the members of this "club".

I was also valued the high quality of the contributions by external specialists dealing with very specialist subjects, and the practical case studies set out by the Cedhys members.

I was certainly convinced.”

Hervé Affagard (BIO-RAD FRANCE)

“Within an SME an IT Management team can feel isolated or under-resourced. On the other hand, the professional or regulatory responsibilities and constraints can also be significant in larger companies. Whether for exchanging ideas on these difficulties with other IT Managers dealing with the same issues, identifying solutions applied elsewhere or seeking them together, the exchanges of experience encouraged by Cedhys are beneficial.”

Raphaël Commaret (FLAMEL TECHNOLOGIES)

“I have developed a great deal in my IT management activity thanks to the Cedhys seminars, whose subjects are genuinely relevant and whose presenters are of high quality. It is always a pleasure to be amongst colleagues and to be able to share with them, quite simply, one's experience and questions.”

Eric Cohen (CHIESI FRANCE)

“Cedhys is a vibrant and active network of CIO in the pharmaceutical industry that enables me to meet my peers and to exchange ideas on common problems, to "dip one's toe in the water" regarding environmental changes in the pharmaceutical world and also regarding changes in the IT management profession in this industry.”

Nathalie Detroeux (ASTRAZENECA FRANCE)

“Through its high quality presentations, Cedhys is an excellent way to stay informed and to receive training in the latest fields. It is also a means of accessing a network of professionals sharing the same problems as you and who are readily accessible. Membership soon pays for itself in its overall ethos and for the advice given by professionals.”
